Midst Covid-19 : An Alappian exploration of life

Real life experiences become the best lessons for a student to learn forever. COVID 19 pandemic served as an incredible opportunity to selflessly serve the community without expecting anything in return. The service begun after registering as a volunteer in the 'Sannadham' portal of Alappuzha Municipality. The major works include preparing the list of people under quarantine and providing tele counselling services. A mock drill was conducted for the people on hand sanitizing at Alappuzha KSRTC stand as a part of 'Break the Chain' campaign. It was at that time, I got acquainted with ARDF (Alleppey Development Responsible Forum) and took membership in the forum. I was very much motivated by the initiatives taken by ADRF force for the community during the pandemic. I also became one of them who are engaged in social service without any gender-Age differentiations. This led to the realization that there is no limit for social service. Together with the ARDF force, I also reached Kaavaalam panchayath to provide mental support to people under quarantine and to provide awareness to the neighbors to prevent social exclusion of the quarantined families as per the instruction given by the collector. The extent of psychological distress one suffers when forced to confine himself within the four walls of his house for the safety of the whole society is maginable. Through praising the efforts taken by them, we were able to provide support and relief to those people. These experiences become a practical exposure to me who had learnt only the theoretical aspects of counselling. To me, it is of great importance to provide care and emotional support to others during their difficult situations. Another great experience was travelling through the deserted roads of Alappuzha during the lockdown for providing medicines and other essentials for the elderly, differentially abled, homeless and people under quarantine. The priceless reward I got in return was the blessings and prayers of those human beings. More than 850 food packages were prepared in order to help the municipality. If you really love your life, you have to make use of your time,because the only thing you have is present. The ADRF force supplied food grain kits for the family of disabled persons who were facing financial crisis during the unexpected lockdown period. The lockdown greatly affected the families of those individuals who engaged in making pens, bags and umbrellas for living. Mr. Ajith in the ADRF force was the person who influenced me greatly. Being a disabled person, he provides food kits for families of disabled persons with the government pension he receives. Perhaps, he might know the actual needs of disabled persons than their common needs.

A SPARK CAN BECOME A FLAME

A SPARK CAN BECOME A FLAME

Covid-19 made us rethink the working process of social work field where we social workers face many challenges in our working sectors. As a social worker, in this pandemic period I found my space in engaging the community. As the first step, we organized a general awareness video on how every student spent their time during lockdown days and it was titled "JaiHo to all Superheroes." Different ideas and works were show cased and this program was officially released in our Youtube channel. More than 50 Social Work students' participation was ensured. From march onwards I was part of "District Mental Health Program in Ernakulam". I have been working in DMHP for tele-counseling purpose. As a social worker it was a great experience from my part to help others in this Covid-19 pandemic. I got an opportunity to enquire on details regarding the problems of Covid positive cases, old age people, foreigners, social stigmas and ASHA workers. It also added a new experience to work with a team of professional counsellors.

I got a big opportunity to coordinate an International Webinar series from our social work department on the theme "Application of social work methods in this pandemic crisis". The webinar series opened a new platform for social work trainees and practitioners in India to be a part of it. International resource persons, four-day series of webinar, platform for paper presentation and International certificates were the attractive factors of the Webinar Series. The program was conducted on June 1, 3, 5 & 8 by following all covid-19 protocols.

In Kerala, we mainly faced the shortage of food and other necessary materials during this pandemic period. So, to overcome this core issue, we social work trainees from Bharata Mata College began "Seed ball Challenge" on June 5, 2020 to make a general awareness among the public regarding the issues related to our food sector and also to promote cultivation of necessary farming in our limited space. Social work students from Bharata Mata college participated in a program organized by "Project VENDA" on the theme "Substance abuse among the youth" on July 1, 2020. A team of six students participated in the project proposal. Team mainly focused on the substance abuse issues among youth in slums. Students included theoretical and practical methods which are beneficial for their upliftment. Students from several colleges across Kerala participated in the project proposal competition organized by Fourth wave foundations. In this new platform, the Social work trainees from Bharata Mata College won the title and a cash prize of amount ₹2000 securing first position in the competition.

On 21st July, 2020 yet another challenge was put before the Chellanam people. Apart from being in the containment zone, the heavy rain flooded Chellanam coastal area. Their life got stuck between Corona and Flood. As a helping hand, Social Work students from Bharata Mata College raised a ₹50 campaign to provide the needy things to them. At the same time, NSS unit from Bharata Mata College provided food kit including 12 items to 200 families in Chellanam. We focused on the health conditions of the people and provided a Medical kit to 150 families in Chellanam. The kit included items such as Ayurvedic immunity powder, Sanitizer, Hand wash, Body wash, Scrubber and Masks (5) which were provided for five members in a family.

One of most vulnerable group of people during this pandemic period are the elderly. Kerala is very famous for our traditions and culture. "Karkkidaka Kanji" was one among it, which is intended to improve our immunity strength during the Malayalam month Karkkidakam. With an intention to help and support aged people, we provided Karkkidaka Kanji kit to 42 elder people in the wards 1 & 13 of Kadamakkudy. As a social worker it was a real bliss for me to organize such a program in this challenging period. In conclusion, these all are the activities which I organized and been part of. We all are going through the same conditions in pandemic period. One of the main motives we had was to focus on the positive side and not on negatives. We might face many struggles and challenges, but we will not quit because we are social workers who are aware of our duty to help our people, our society and we know very well that even our single action can bring great changes. So, as a professional social worker, we will be vigilant and ready enough to serve better service for our people.
